Old Fashioned Chiropractic—Body Harmony Sessions & Intrinsic Assessment Counseling

When Dr. Gordon Greener and Valerie Jo Skiles met in May of 2007 it was like peanut butter and chocolate colliding; a combination of knowledge, understanding and wisdom for the health, healing and well-being of the people they served suddenly conjoined. A lifelong harvest of mental, physical and financial investment was integrated into one dynamic concept, which is now known as Greener Body Harmony Center.

Dr. Greener had faithfully and lovingly served his chiropractic patients in Oklahoma and Texas for 25 years. He has constantly researched and studied to developed ways to help alleviate pain and bring wholeness and healing to his patients and others. It was during these years that Dr. Greener developed a specially designed sound table, with a deep seeded yearning but somewhat limited understanding as to how this table could be used to it's fullest potential (see details in GBHC website under Body Harmony Session).

It was the late 80's, and while Dr. Greener was brainstorming and expanding the concept of his idea, knowing some piece to his puzzle was missing, Valerie was in California, later moving to Texas, passionately and diligently studying and actively participating in the cause and effects of human illness and suffering, and of spirit, soul and body dysfunction. Like Dr. Greener, the goal was discovering healing answers and yet, there seemed to be a missing piece to this puzzle. All Valerie knew was that human intervention was needed, and any manifestation of what she had learned had to be on a "hands-on" personal level. When Valerie saw Dr. Greener's Sound Table she knew just what to do with it, and when Dr. Greener realized how Valerie's concept fit right into his dreams of it's use, everything came together into a single Divine plan.

Dr. Greener and Valerie believe that a person is a 3 part being. They are spirit, they have a soul (mind, will, emotions) and they live in a physical body (which houses the other). These two professionals have combined decades of wisdom, and they look forward to sharing this blessing with you.

Coming Soon: SUPPLEMENTS and HEALTH PRODUCTS

One of the future goals we have for you as patients and clients, is that you have available the very best in nutritional supplements. We have researched both the reputation and quality of the products of the companies from which we purchase our supplements and products. The ingredients must match our very high standards, be authentic, organic, and have the best possible absorption into the human body.

Greener Body Harmony Center has only been open for two months now, but very soon our patients and clients will be able to purchase these quality supplements and products when they come in for their appointments, or by just stopping in for what you are needing. We always love to see you again.
